

Our history

President and owner G. Thomas Cornett Jr. founded GTO 2000 Inc., in 1975 and has guided the company to its current competitive and respected position in the transportation services industry.

Since inception, we have experienced a steady and controlled rate of growth, serving clients across the United States. Our objective continues to be to provide a quality service with efficient and economical transportation of goods throughout North America.

Corporate headquarters are based in Gainesville, Georgia, just northeast of Atlanta. GTO 2000 employs seasoned transportation professionals who have over 250 years of combined experience in the transportation and freight brokerage industry. We also are represented by a network of agents throughout the United States who bring broad experience from many aspects of the transportation industry, and whose combined resources provide unparalleled support.
